

InResidence Spotlights

- Alice Ogden wove curiosity and black ash reed in a basket making residency with 5th grade students at Webster Elementary School.
- New Hampshire Theater Project led students in dramatizing science competencies at Maude H. Trefethen School in Newcastle.
- Ahmad Qadri is throwing ceramics all summer long with youth at Windsor Mountain Camp.
- Sarah Duclos of Neoteric Dance Collaborative choreographs an understanding of Shakespeare and poetry through dance.
- Want to be featured? Fill out our short survey so we can better understand the scope of work that is being done across the state. The residencies you enter can be anywhere in NH and funded by any source.

Residency photos from left to right; Alice Ogden; Sarah Duclos and Neoteric; Ahmad Qadri, Rainmaker pottery; New Hampshire Theater Project

Connections

- The Department of Education has a list of all schools and school districts with contact information. Schedule yourself time this summer to create your residency flyer, update a webpage, or submit a conference proposal. Where can you share the amazing things you do that will help others see the value in inviting you to their school? Request to present at local PTA meetings.
- The NH State Council on the Arts is now using Creative Ground to host all Artist Roster profiles. You can create and edit your own profile at any time. Search for “teacher” under NH to see how other creative are including information about their work as a teaching artist in their profile and listing schools and organizations
- The Arts Alliance of Northern New Hampshire is offering a series of workshops for educators and teaching artists on Universal Design for Learning. All professional development events are listed on the NH Arts Learning Network homepage.

Resources & Ideas

- Watch Austin’s Butterfly, the value of teaching critique
- Obvious to you. Amazing to others. A youtube video by Derek Sievers
- Listen to educational and creative focused media:
 - Alan November interviews leaders in education (Alan is one of our keynote speakers at the Arts Education conference on November 3-4 in Littleton, NH)
 - Getting Smart Podcast: What’s new and innovative in education
 - Netflix: Abstract, the Art of Design
 - PBS: Art21, episodes on contemporary artists